CARNEGIE SLIPS AND IS INJURED

Millionaire Falls on the Ice and Is Forced to Take to His Bed

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Andrew Carnegie slipped on an icy spot when walking around the reservoir in Central Park yesterday and suffered a painful injury to his left knee. He was unable to be present at a dinner at his home tonight, which he gave to Governor Hughes, President Butler of Columbia university and others, and he also was unable to attend a meeting of the American Historical Association and the American Economic Association at Carnegie hall tonight.

Carnegie was taking one of his usual constitutional in the park when the accident occurred. He fell heavily on his knee and was unable to regain his feet. For several minutes he lay prostrate, as the walk was almost deserted at the time. Finally a park employee assisted him to an old tow-er. A man who said he was a friend of Carnegie but withheld his name, summoned a cabman. The two then made a pack-saddle with their hands and Carnegie was carried to a cab and taken home.

At the Carnegie home it was said that his condition was not serious but that he had remained in his room on the advice of physicians.

While suffering considerable pain from the fall on the knee, Carnegie showed such buoyant spirits today and expects to be out again in a few days.

Warns Against Wood Alcohol as Beverage

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Coroner Herbert H. Searles reported to the police and excise department that wood alcohol is again being sold as a beverage in New York city with deadly results. Searles reported for the first time that a man who had been drinking the stuff for several days had died. The coroner said that several cases of mysterious deaths during the last few months have been traced to this cause.

For ten cents, says the coroner, "a man can go into one of New York's dives and buy enough of this beverage to put him into a coma and death. The men who sell it make Lucetta Borga look like a milk peddler."

Supervisor Kelley's Subway Plan Is Taken Up at Washington

SUPERVISOR JOSEPH M. KELLEY, Whose Subway Plan Has Been Taken Up at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland at the request of Supervisor Kelley of Oakland, has been in consultation with the Secretary of War regarding the proposed subway under the harbor at Oakland Cal. Mr. Knowland lives in Alameda and he knows the value of a subway connecting Oakland with Alameda.

After consultation, it was found that the scheme is advisable in every way. Mr. Knowland now feels that he will have the support of the government in this important improvement. He has communicated his views to Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley, the father of the subway plan.

Supervisor Kelley has been a most enthusiastic worker on behalf of the subway improvement. He is the originator of the idea and he has worked early and late to secure the improvement. The Supervisor will carry on the good work until he has brought matters to a successful termination. Mr. Kelley has made a host of friends in Alameda and Oakland by his advocacy of the subway system.

POLICE WORRIED BY A TONG WAR

New York Patrolmen Crowding Chinatown in Search for Weapons

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Scores of detectives and patrolmen were sent into Chinatown today to check, if possible, the outbreak of the tong war, in which one Chinaman had been killed and another mortally wounded.

Police Captain Galkin states that the new assassins, known to the tongs as "gunmen," were sent here from Boston, following the recent legal execution there of five Hip Sing Tong members who were convicted of killing several On Leong Tong men and that their mission was revenge.

Low Jung, the 75-year-old man whose body was riddled with bullets last night, was the treasurer of the Four Brothers' Society, a western tong which has taken a part in the war making it three-sided. The Four Brothers are supposed to have brought a large sum of money to the city for the purpose of employing "gunmen" to kill enemies.

Lu Yo Fong, the younger Chinese who was shot three times was Low Jung's assistant and a companion. He said that four men suddenly broke into the room and commenced firing. The police found Low Jung's in a money safe and removed it to the police station.

Fearing that the latest assassination will lead to open hostilities all Chinamen are being searched for weapons.

HENEY FILES SUIT FOR LIBEL AGAINST CROCKER

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The formal complaint in this damage suit of Francis J. Heney of San Francisco against William H. Crocker, the California millionaire, for $250,000 on an allegation of libel was filed here yesterday. Heney says he bases his action on an open letter bearing Crocker's name which appeared in a New York evening newspaper on December 2, in which Crocker defended his action in first supporting Heney in the San Francisco graft prosecutions and later withdrawing his support.

SMALL ESTATE IS LEFT BY PUBLISHER ANNIS

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—William E. Annis, the publisher, who was shot and killed by Captain Hains at the Bay Side Yacht Club on August 15, 1919, left an estate worth only $203.95. The chief item in this amount of assets was the proceeds of the sail boat in which Annis was shot down by the army. The amount of the Annis estate was disclosed today by a report filed with the surrogate. Helen B. Annis, the widow, is the executrix of the estate. She inherits all of it as her husband left no will. ### Heney's Libel Suit Filed.

At last Francis J. Heney's threatened suit against William H. Crocker to recover $250,000 for alleged libel has been filed in New York City. Explaining why the action was brought there instead of in San Francisco, Heney's attorney says: "In San Francisco the graft prosecutions have so divided its people into hostile camps that it would seem to me a matter of exceeding difficulty to obtain a jury that would consider the questions involved with absolute impartiality."

There is some truth in this statement, but there are still stronger reasons why Heney went abroad to try conclusions with the San Francisco banker. In San Francisco Heney's reputation is so well established that the idea of its being damaged to the extent of $250,000 or any other sum is wildly ridiculous. Besides, Heney has repeatedly defamed Crocker in public speeches, attacking his character as a citizen in the most wanton and outrageous manner. The San Francisco public is familiar with this defamatory and regards it as ample justification for whatever Crocker said about Heney.

It is our belief, however, that the suit against Crocker was brought mainly for advertising purposes and is in the nature of a bluff. It has been announced that Heney is soon to take the lecture platform, in which case the notoriety given him by his libel suit can be capitalized. In our opinion that is all it will ever amount to.

Gold Quartz Developments.

When Nevada mining men pay a cash consideration of $225,000 for a California gold quartz mine, as has been done in the case of the Plumas-Eureka mine, located in Plumas county, it is proof conclusive that the gold mining industry is still vigorous in this State. This particular mine has been worked for over fifty years, is credited with having yielded $40,000,000 of the precious metal, has paid over $18,000,000 in dividends and, although the underground workings aggregate twenty-six miles in length, it is still a good producer. The fact that such a large cash price has been paid for the mine indicates that the buyers have faith in the permanency of its ledges, of which it contains several.

As a matter of fact the gold-bearing quartz ledges of California will no doubt be yielding bigger returns a hundred years hence than they are doing today. It may be said that in the case of the ledges longest worked they are scarcely better than surface scratched, as is proved in the groups of gold-producing mines in and around Nevada City and Grass Valley; on the Mother Lode, in Amador and other counties, and in the Alleghany district, in Sierra county, where richer developments have been made in a group of old-time mines than were ever uncovered at any previous period in their history. In the latter group the Tightner, Sixteen-to-One and the Rainbow have recently uncovered bonanzas of marvelous wealth. The Rainbow is credited with having exposed, with one shot, quartz valued at $100,000 per ton. The ore is so saturated with gold that it cannot be milled and is worth more to the jeweler than it is to the reduction works. Whether it is a pocket or a chute remains to be proved.

Pleasanton is planning to build a $100,000 hotel. Good for Pleasanton; it means to be in the swim.

Finding fault is the easiest mental exercise known. It requires little thought and no study at all. Perhaps that is the reason so many newspaper editors never discuss any subject—merely find fault. And, unfortunately, the fault-finding habit breeds carelessness of fact and indifference to the spirit of justice. When those addicted to it are hypocrites, pharisees and egotists indurated with self-conceit, as is the case with the crapulous editor of the Fresno Republican, the habit is likely to be virulent, even pustulent.

Mayor-elect McCarthy has at last discovered that the Geary street bond proposition is a gold brick handed to his administration by his enemies.

A large majority of the property owners and business men on Geary street are vigorously opposing the proposed bond issue to reconstruct the railroad on that thoroughfare as a municipal enterprise. They want a line with transfer connections, so that all parts of the city may be reached for a single fare. A city-owned road on Geary street will compel the continued payment of double fares by people dwelling or doing business along the line. That is the chief ground of complaint against the present service.

The Ballinger investigation will probably develop the fact that the Forestry Bureau has been more active in doing politics than conserving the natural resources of the country.

Appealing to the "straphanger" to vote for the Geary street bonds as a method of redressing his grievances and getting better street car accommodations is the rankest of humbug. For the city to own and operate a railroad on Geary street will not relieve congestion in any other part of the city. There has been a line on Geary street for many years, but it has never affected the service on other lines. What possible influence can municipal ownership of the Geary street road have on the travel on Market, Valencia, Mission, Bryant, Haight, Hayes, McAllister and other lines reaching into other sections of the city?

Beautifying Oakland Streets.

The Park Commission has taken under its special charge the care and protection of all trees growing in the public highways of the city. If such a commission had been in existence twenty years ago many of the native trees which have given the city its name would have been spared the woodman's ax and be still standing to delight the eye and maintain one of Oakland's natural beauties. But personal and official fads, the introduction of electric street lighting and the building of electric street railways were remorseless and the trees had to go. The live oaks have, in consequence, nearly all disappeared. Many residence streets which they formerly adorned are now bare of any kind of ornamental tree.

It is the intention of the Park Commission to correct past errors and to make Oakland a city more beautiful than it is by encouraging tree planting, regulating tree pruning and tree felling. In adopting rules and regulations bearing on these purposes, it has appealed to the improvement clubs and to private property owners for their co-operation in the good work.

The purpose of the Park Commission is not only to save such ornamental trees as remain standing in the public highways, but to encourage and help property owners beautify the streets on which their property fronts by systematic and harmonious tree planting, which will result in pleasing effects and add to the city's fame and attractiveness. And in the rules it has adopted it pledges to aid in the selection, the preservation and the control and culture of the trees best adapted for street ornamental purposes, with the advice and supervision of the skilled landscape experts in its employ. Under such an intelligent policy Oakland's streets ought to become in a few years a source of enjoyment to its citizenship and of unbounded admiration to all visitors from abroad. Everybody should help the commission in the good work.

Germany Rejects Airship.

Notwithstanding the remarkable aerial voyages made by Count Zeppelin's airships and the hope he cherished of building an aerial navy for Germany, he is apparently doomed to meet with disappointment. The German War Office, to which the most perfect of his airship creations—Zeppelin III—was offered for $140,000, has notified him of its rejection. The German Government is evidently unprepared to take up aerial navigation in its present unsettled and imperfect condition. So many technical improvements have been introduced into airship construction that the War Office anticipates Zeppelin's dirigible balloon will be out-of-date possibly in a year. Already a new metal known as aluminum, which is lighter than aluminum, has been discovered. Lightness in the material composing the rigid gas envelope is one of the most important factors in airship construction. Until the recent discovery of aluminum was regarded as the lightest of malleable metals. Every pound saved in the weight of the material of which an airship is constructed adds to its carrying capacity and consequently in the durability of its flight and general efficiency. The rapid progress made within a year in aeroplane construction and endurance in flight has been a disturbing influence also in dirigible airship construction, for a numerous fleet of aeroplanes, each capable of carrying a passenger besides the operator, can be built at the cost of one dirigible balloon of the Zeppelin type, which needs a crew of many men to operate its engines, and has, therefore, only a very limited capacity for passenger carrying. War students are, moreover, beginning to regard the aeroplane as a more dangerous military auxiliary than the large dirigible balloon. The aeroplane offers a small and unsteady target, owing to the rapidity of its flight and the ease with which its course can be changed, while the larger and slower dirigible balloon offers a target that can be easily destroyed by the guns already invented to resist its attack long before it gets within the danger line.

During the past week the last span of the Dumbarton railroad bridge was swung into position, thus materializing a dream which railroad builders have hugged for over a quarter of a century.

The pair of confidence operators who sold Redding merchants a stock of hulled walnuts certainly worked a shell game to the finish, but it did not prevent them being landed in jail later. A just punishment would be to feed them on ground walnut shells for a week.

At last Washington street is to be opened to San Pablo avenue. It was a long time coming. However, it is gratifying to learn that the belated improvement is not to be a makeshift. The extension will not be on a curve but a straight line, and will be a great convenience to street travel and do much to relieve the growing congestion at Fourteenth and Broadway.

The Santa Clara College is first of the higher educational institutions of California to take up "Soccer" football. As a result of a recent examination of this sane and healthful form of outdoor athletics, in which the entire student body can participate and derive therefrom physical, mental and moral profit, the athletic faculty of the college has decided to include it in next year's athletic curriculum and organize a team to enter the California League and association championship and cup competitions.

TRUCKEE RIVER TO BE FISHERMEN'S JOY

Land on Stream From Truckee to Tahoe Will Be Great Preserve

A great private preserve is to be made of the country along the Truckee river from the town of Truckee to Lake Tahoe, a distance of fourteen miles. All the mountain district on both sides of the stream has been given into the hands of the United States and the land is to be divided into sections ranging from 2 to 25 acres in extent, and sell the land only on the agreement that the great Truckee stream, probably the best known to California fishermen, will be preserved for the exclusive use of the land-holders along the river. The preserve will not be opened, it is thought, until the surveys have been completed some time next June, and a reserve list for those wishing the great Truckee stream, probably the best known to California fishermen, will be preserved for the exclusive use of the land-holders along the river. ### Judge Henry B. Melvin A Panegyric by Major John B. Jeffery

The following is advance copy from the official history of the Illinois: Henry A. Melvin is one of those universal spirits with which all mankind claims kinship, from which flows out a magnetism that finds repose in every heart—a lovable nature because a loving nature. His is one of the kindly hearts in which God ever stores his sunshine. One's hand seems to sink into his clasp, and when it is withdrawn brings a soul-glow with it that makes the earth pleasant and the day sweeter.

It is a happiness to know him, so catholic, so charitable, so rich in excellent qualities, loyal, brave, chivalric, yet as gentle as a woman and, for himself, as modest as a girl. His mind is a palace of truth, closed against evils and jealousies, forbidding malice and there generous virtues assemble, benevolence guiding them.

Probably there never was upon the Supreme Bench of California a man more simply honest, more sincerely true and finer in those attributes and elements that make character beautiful.

The many who know him only in the lightness of his humor can hardly imagine that beneath the smile that is the familiar of his face, pathos and profound seriousness are ready for their hour.

Melvin takes the world into his sunny confidence and is such a companion as all the world delights in and every class accounts particularly its own.

This universal good-fellowship, that hobnobs with a prince today and fraternizes with a Bohemian tomorrow, that sits in state at a ducal banquet or rolls under the same blanket with an Indian, is not always within the understanding of those who judge character and capacity by the tests of conformity to type.

His industry, temperance and studiousness being most exemplary, however, he has thus far been successful in the race for fame.

As a lawyer he understands the framework, the anatomy, the foundations of law; is familiar with the great streams and currents, and tides of authority. He knows the history of legislation, the principles that

BULL FIGHTS AND AERIAL LEAPS ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

Entertainment Committee Outlines Program That Will Rival Mardi Gras and Great Carnivals of the Past

Sensational aerial leaps, bull fights, music, free dancing, vaudeville acts, clownish stunts are only a few of the features that the entertainment committee of the New Year's celebration is planning. Other feats equally as interesting and laughable will be presented next Friday night and when the full program is worked out it will be one of the greatest carnivals that has ever been given in the West. The Mardi Gras of New Orleans will pale into insignificance to the revelry and fun that will be on the Oakland street on Great New Year's celebration when the people lined the main thoroughfares, threw confetti, blew horns, laughed and jostled on another and saw the old year out with a spirit that is only equaled by the Parisians, the coming festivity will be much greater in the extent of amusements and the number of the fun makers. Conservative estimates figure the New Year's eve crowd at 150,000.

There was a time when Oaklanders used to cross the bay to participate in the Mardi Gras of New Orleans. But those days are past. Instead there will be hundreds who will come from all over the city to witness the old year out with a spirit that is only equaled by the Parisians, the coming festivity will be much greater in the extent of amusements and the number of the fun makers. Conservative estimates figure the New Year's eve crowd at 150,000.

SPECTACULAR LEAP

One of the most important acts of the evening will be the spectacular leap. A woman who is noted for her daredevil stunts will appear as if a monster political campaign is on. It will be a great night and a great celebration. The entertainment committee which has this in charge is composed of C. C. Craig, Bernard F. Miller, Carl H. Buxton and David H. McLaughlin. They met this morning at the Chamber of Commerce and will have another session tomorrow night to finish their plans.

WANTS A CHANGE IN THE STATE FISH LAWS

Editor TRIBUNE: I notice your editorial of the 24th of December on "Fool Game Laws," and am glad to see the matter taken up and hope a thorough revision will be made by men who have made a scientific study of the subject from the points of view—first, the protection of species, and second—the food value of time and fish.

What seems to me a very unnecessary and useless regulation is the protection of female crabs. This crustacean is a vermin of the ocean, enormously prolific and impossible of extermination. The policy of taking only the best males has a tendency to deteriorate the variety.

The food value of the female is at least twice that of the male as the back shell of the male is empty and that of the female full of delicious meat. If we were to start a campaign to take all the crabs we could on the present fishing grounds border would come in from the lower depths to take their place.

We have no conception of the destruction they do to other forms of fish life, but it must be enormous.

BATTLE BEGUN OVER ESTATE LEFT BY WOOD

Mother of Murdered Doctor Is Fighting Widow's Appointment

PHYSICIAN'S BROTHER
FILES A PETITION

Bitter Legal War to Follow in Track of Affinity Tragedy

Appearing in behalf of Mrs. Wilmauth E. White, mother of the late Dr. Eugene C. Wood, who was shot to death by Gabriel Jacobs, the suicide, because of his intimacy with the doctor's wife, Fred T. Wood, brother of the murdered physician, this forenoon inaugurated in the probate department of the Superior Court what promises to be a bitter legal battle against the appointment of Edith L. Wood as administrator of her deceased husband's estate.

The opposition appears in the form of a petition, in which Fred T. Wood states that his brother, leaving property amounting in value to less than $10,000, that aside from himself and the mother the heirs of the deceased are Edith L. Wood, a sister, residing at Headburg, Illinois; C. Wood, a brother, residing at Santa Clara; William M. Wood, a brother, residing in Oakland; and the widow and her daughter, Bertha Wood, and that he believes he is entitled to letters of administration of the estate. In the early part of last March Dr. and Mrs. Wood entered into a contract in writing, which was filed with the County Recorder, in which it was agreed that all the wealth which the doctor possessed was community property. It was agreed that the instrument should not prevent either party from securing a divorce and provided that during the lifetime of the wife the homestead, valued at $8500, should be retained by her. But in the event of her being divorced and remarried, or dying, it should go to the daughter, Bertha Wood. It was also set forth that she should have 2500 shares of the capital stock of the Shasta May Blossom Mining Company—being one-half of Dr. Wood's interest in that enterprise—the life insurance, amounting to $100,000, and $500 a month for the maintenance and support of the daughter.

WOULD BAR WIDOW.
The blood relatives are interested in the position to Mrs. Wood's appointment as administratrix contend that the widow's interest in the estate is confined to the terms of the contract and that in view of the instrument she is barred from participating in any residue estate that there may be. On this hypothesis they are seeking to prevent Mrs. Wood from participating in the distribution of what is some more of property that belongs to the estate.

Shortly after the death of Dr. Wood a petition was filed by Mrs. Wood for letters of administration. This should have been heard by Judge Ogden this morning, but when he was informed that a petition in opposition had been filed by Attorney A. T. Leach, representing Fred T. Wood, he concluded the matter until January 10. Attorney Phillips, representing Mrs. Wood, attempted to get the case of the court in an effort to have the widow's application disposed of in spite of the opposition, but Judge Ogden refused to hear him.

It is Mrs. Wood's contention that the contract recorded in March does not prohibit her from participating with her daughter in the estate, but that this number and that as the widow and child of the deceased they are the only heirs who are entitled to the residue.

AUTHRESS TO GAIN HER FREEDOM SOON

Mrs. Elizabeth Murray Newman
Tells Her Story of Auto Transaction

SAYS HER HUSBAND
WANTED THE MACHINE

Literary Woman Lays Blame for Her Troubles on Her Spouse

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Elizabeth Murray Newman, the literary woman, who has remained for the past week in the city prison, charged with defrauding an automobile driver, and who has conducted herself throughout this period with cheerfulness and a confidence which betokened innocence, will in all probability be dismissed from custody tomorrow by Judge Judge.

The story of the interest of the young authress for failure to pay a $500 automobile bill, was told on the witness stand in department 7 of the police court this morning, and the version of the affair given by the defendant does not differ materially from that of the chauffeur, Robert Herman, who is the complaining witness.

SHE HIRED THE AUTO.
"My husband and me to arrange for the hiring of an auto for a business trip through Sonoma county," said Mrs. Newman. "I wanted him to go in a buggy, but he said 'We must have a machine.' So I went to the Alameda garage and arranged that we should pay the tolls and board and lodging of the chauffeur and that the firm should supply the oil and gasoline in consideration of a sum of $100 for the use of the auto for the month."

"The following day Robert Herman, the chauffeur, picked me up at the Golden Phœnix. He asked me if we could pay every day, but I said he should arrange that with my husband when we got to the springs. We paid the chauffeur's board bill and the oil and the gasoline and on our return also paid the automobile people $100 on account."

WAS A CIVIL CONTRACT.
Judge Webster stated that he did not believe the case one that would come under the ordinance relating to the defrauding of an automobile driver, but intimated his belief that a contract had been entered into between the two parties and that it was a civil matter.

In testimony the chauffeur, declared that the party had gone to Boyes Springs and made trips to surrounding settlements. He had been told to call at the Hotel Argonaut in this city. This he had done, and Mrs. Newman had gone to Santa Barbara. He had then gone to Mr. Newman. Asked by the judge why he had taken this step, he said:

"I thought he might have some influence with his wife. Sometimes they have, you know."

The court will decide the matter in the morning.

WOULD SAVE MAN WHO SHOT HER

Mrs. H. H. Williams Refuses to Testify Against Her Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Despite the refusal of his wife to testify against him, H. H. Williams was held to answer to the Superior Court today on a charge of attempt to commit murder.

Williams eloped from Philadelphia with the woman and shortly after their arrival here Mrs. Williams deserted her husband.

The later found her in a hotel and after a quarrel shot her. It was believed at first that the woman was fatal but Mrs. Williams recovered.

When Williams was arraigned Mrs. Williams testified that she shot herself and on being threatened with prosecution for perjury she refused to testify at all in the hearing, which ended today.

Given Vacation From Saloons of Alameda

ALAMEDA, Dec. 28.—"You are now given a vacation from the Alameda saloons for a year. How long will it take you to pack your bag and get out of town?"

This was the greeting given Tom Gardner, arrested for intoxication, by Judge R. E. Tappan this morning. He pleaded for ten days more in Alameda but was told to make his exit in twenty-four hours.

Gardner has been on the police records as "drunk" more times than he could conveniently count. When last arrested he was put on probation by the court. He is a well-known character about town and in the police court.

Gardner is known by a small sized club which he always carries in his hand and uses to salute his friends with. He showed his pleasure at being released from prison confinement this morning by saluting the court when his sentence was pronounced.

Bible Society Must Raise More Funds

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The American Bible Society may lose $100,000 unless it can raise $125,000 between now and next Friday. It is that much short of the $500,000 subscription which it has been endeavoring to raise in order to take advantage of a $500,000 endowment gift offered by Mrs. Russell Sage.

Officials of the society say there is small likelihood of raising the necessary sum. They hope that Mrs. Sage may be induced at last to duplicate the amount already subscribed.

Golden Wedding Celebrated At Jolly Family Gathering

MR. AND MRS. E. A. STEVENS, Who Celebrated Their Golden Wedding Anniversary Last Tuesday in San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stevens, residents of this city living at 1611 Twenty-third avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Tuesday evening in the Congregational church of San Rafael. The members of the immediate family, consisting of thirteen, extended congratulations to the couple, who had enjoyed fifty years of married life. The children and grandchildren present were Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Stevens and three children, Rev. C. H. Stevens and Mrs. Stevens and four children.

UNIQUE DECORATIONS.
In honor of the occasion the church was attractively decorated with golden chrysanthemums and greens. One of the unique features was a large table hand-somely decorated and in the midst of the decorations in the center was a pyramid wedding cake containing three flags. The first bearing the date of 1864, the second the date of 1909, and the third the date of the wedding.

CHILDREN WILL REMAIN IN CITY

Alleged Bandit's Little Ones to Stay With His Sister-in-Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—The aged father and mother of Walter Carroll, the police officer killed by a train in San Jose and suspected of being the daring Gleason-Courneen Drug Company bandit, testified before Judge Graham this morning in connection with their son's last will and testament. They were questioned particularly in connection with their second son, John, to whom the dead policeman entrusted the custody of his two children—Catherine, Mary Carroll and Paul Christopher Carroll—still babies in arms.

It was learned that John, who lives in Kansas, has a farm and two children and travels for a liquor firm. Mrs. Annie Hagerty, the sister-in-law of Carroll, applied for letters of guardianship for the children, protesting against their being sent to Kansas. Judge Graham taking them made a temporary order giving them into her charge pending an investigation as to the pecuniary circumstances of the Kansas relative.

Mrs. Carroll, the wife of the deceased policeman, it will be remembered, was found dead under peculiar circumstances, with a bullet wound in her head, last August.

MANGLED BODY OF WOMAN IS FOUND IN RIVER

Head Is Crushed by Heavy
Piece of Slag and Corpse

THINK NEGRO THUG
COMMITTED MURDER

Black Returns and Herbs Her
Home After Killing
Woman

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—The body of Mrs. Belle Rup, wife of a railroad employe, was found this morning in the Plate river. Her head had been crushed in by blows from a heavy piece of slag, welded, it is believed, by a negro who last night attempted to force his way into her house. The entire police force of the city is looking for the negro and threats of lynching have been made.

According to the children the negro returned some time after Mrs. Rup left and took $12 and everything he could find in the house. It is believed this was done after the negro had slain the mother.

SAILOR IS INJURED.

MESSANGER BOY BEATEN BY THUGS

Lad Is Set Upon by Four Men Who Beat Him Severely
and Rob Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—His arms full of packages, which he was delivering to nearby residences, and his attention directed entirely on his work, Morris Foster, an errand boy employed by the Rapid Auto Express Company, was suddenly set upon, beaten and robbed by four men in a lonely part of the Mission last night.

The lad had left the company's machine to make a short cut and was walking on Alvarado street, between San Jose avenue and Guerrero street, when the four thugs set upon him. They threw him into the street, stole two packages, each containing a suit of clothes, rifled his pockets of $7 and made off in the darkness.

Recovering his feet and holding his handkerchief to a wound in his head, the boy ran in search of a policeman, notified Officer Fred Smith, who made an unsuccessful attempt to locate the culprits.

Edward Moore of the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company was held up by two men, one of whom carried a revolver and the other wore a pair of brass knuckles, on Howard street, between Fourth and Fifth, early this morning. The men secured but 25 cents for their pains.

TWO WORDS MAKE AN INDICTMENT JUST WASTE PAPER

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Two superfluous words written in an indictment charging forgery have freed William D. Tilden, and Chancery L. Graham from convictions secured against them two years ago in a decision of the State Supreme Court that will serve as an example in Illinois for years to come.

Copies of the decision, which were received in Chicago yesterday, find the indictment "in substance" which never used the words "and" and "or" in describing a copy of an alleged forged note. The Supreme Court held that an indictment must contain an exact copy and that the word "in substance" cast doubt on the accuracy of the copy. For this reason, the merits of the case were not considered, but the indictment was declared valueless.

SOCIETY BACKS KIRMESS PLANS

Club and Society Women
Gather at Ebell Hall to Talk Over Fete

Society is evincing a lively interest in the Kirmess, which is to be held the evening of February 2, 3, 4 and 5, with netting, croquet, and other arrangements will be made. As yet but few of the details have been agreed upon except the time and the fact that the proceeds will accrue to the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

It is expected that the fete will be held at Idora Park and that not less than 600 participants will contribute toward the success of the affair. Of this number 250 will be children.

A number of the patronesses of the projected Kirmess yesterday tentatively decided that those taking part be divided into fourteen groups, each one to be sponsored by several prominent society women.

Professor F. M. Agostini, who has had wide experience in directing similar fetes throughout the United States, will have charge of the undertaking.

In Europe, particularly in Belgium and Holland, a Kirmess is an outdoor festival and fair; in the United States it has come to be regarded as an indoor entertainment and fair combined. In addition to all that is implied by the words "entertainment" and "fair" the projectors hope to make the Kirmess the largest affair given in the city and to call to the assistance of every society and club woman. The meeting tomorrow at Ebell will also be the first rehearsal of a number of the participants.

PLANT IS READY FOR THE TEST

Salt Water System Will Soon
Be Passed on by the Fire Department

Assistant City Engineer Brown reported this morning that the auxiliary salt water plant of the Fire Department was ready for the builders' test. "I believe," he said, "that the builders were ready to begin the construction of the plant yesterday. In the construction of such a complicated plant there are, of course, always some little adjustments of the various parts necessary to get it into perfect working order. These take time. The delay in turning the plant over to the city has been due to the making of these fine adjustments. The engines have been working in the shape for several weeks. The pressure is all right. When the plant is turned over to the city, the plant must pass successfully through a continuing twelve-hour high pressure official test before being accepted. In all probability the builders will subject it to such a test on their own account before signifying their readiness for the official test. So far as our office is concerned we can do nothing in the matter but wait until the builders are ready to turn over the plant."

GOLF PLAYERS TO MEET SOON

Will Discuss Action of Western Players in Leaving Association

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The presidents of the Massachusetts, Metropolitan, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Rhode Island golf associations will meet at Boston on Friday 7 to discuss the action of the Western players in quitting the United States Golf Association. The announcement of the conference was accompanied by a brief statement characterizing the attitude of the West as unsportsmanlike.

"No instance is on record in which the views of the whole country have not been carefully considered by the United States Golf Association," says the statement. "Chicago has received equitable representation on the executive board, has received her full share of the championship meetings, has had a voice in the amendments to the rules, which were adopted by the St. Andrew's committee, and the method of nominating officers has been changed to suit her views."

PRESIDENT IS WORKING ON A SPECIAL MESSAGE

Will Deal With Interstate Commerce and Anti-
Trust Laws

TO CONSIDER GRANTS OF FEDERAL LICENSES

Will Go on With Program
Despite the Standard Oil
Matter

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—President Taft today began the preparation of the first of his special messages to Congress. This message will deal with the amendments he believes are necessary to the interstate commerce and Sherman anti-trust acts.

Recent reports to the contrary notwithstanding it is known that the President will take up the anti-trust act and deal with it at great length. He also will bring forward his ideas as to issuing Federal licenses to corporations. The proposed license will be a voluntary one, to be taken advantage of by such corporations as desire to place themselves under Federal jurisdiction.

It has been reported that President Taft might delay his anti-trust recommendations until the Supreme Court had finally passed on the recent Standard Oil decision. Those to whom the President has talked say, however, that he has decided to go forward with his program.

OPPOSE THE MEASURE.
The President and the members of his cabinet, together with the Interstate Commerce Commission, have given more thought and study to the needed changes in the interstate commerce and anti-trust acts than to any other subjects since the beginning of the present administration. There has been a disposition among some of the members of the Senate and the House in the last two days to urge the President not to send in his anti-trust measure just now.

Mr. Taft is said to feel, nevertheless, that his views have been so fully expressed that he can go forward with his recommendations on the lines decided upon early in the fall.

The President's message will be ready for reading in the two houses of Congress on Wednesday, January 5. Congress reconvenes January 4 but immediately adjourn out of respect to the memory of Senator McClaurin of Mississippi.

AUTO BURNS, BUT DRIVER KEEPS ON

R. P. Fanch Meets With Peculiar Accident While on the Boulevard

HAYWARD, Dec. 28.—While driving near this city on the boulevard, R. P. Fanch, a San Francisco auto enthusiast, met with a peculiar accident, when an explosion in his gasoline tank set fire to the machine, burning the greater part of the wood work from the frame and leaving but the engine and metal supports. Despite this Fanch ran the machine back along the boulevard, sitting on an iron cross-beam.

The accident took place about a mile from this city, and desiring to have his repairing done in Oakland, Fanch secured a new can of gasoline and with a hose connected it to his engine, which was but little damaged by the fire. After filling the machine up and connecting the batteries, Fanch, who is an expert machanicist, drove the car back to Oakland.

PREACHER ERECTS NEW CHURCH FOR HIS FLOCK

The Quakers of the city celebrated Christmas last night at Fifty-second and West streets in the edifice which was built by their pastor, Rev. Levi Gregory, within the last few months.

Nearly two years ago the Society of Friends had grown until a church was necessary. There was only a small amount of money with which to build a building, but Levi Gregory went ahead, donated a carpenter's apprenticeship and did the handwork. One year ago a building was finished. Soon it was outgrown.

Then Rev. Mr. Gregory went to work again and last night the Friends celebrated in the larger structure, which has been built with the old church as part.

RAPID-FIRE INSTRUCTION HANDS OUT TO TEACHERS

Dr. George E. Vincent Continues Talk on Industrial Education and Keeps Audience in Merry Mood

The second day's sessions of the Alameda County Teachers' Institute drew an even larger crowd to Idors Park this morning than yesterday, and the big theater was filled to its utmost capacity with a throng of smartly gowned and jolly millineryed women. Here and there a man could be seen, but his presence was submerged and almost concealed in the prevalence of femininity.

It was a light-hearted convention, almost jolly in its freedom from the somber dignity which tradition associates with the duties of a classroom. So many schoolmarm and stern pedagogues filled the hall, while speakers of national reputation for learning and educational ability transformed their profound themes into rounds of continuous mirth and imparted rapid-fire instruction to teachers in the gay guise of vaudeville monologues.

RAPID FIRE ORATORY. To Dr. George E. Vincent, who continued his talk on industrial education this morning, must be awarded the world's palm for rapid and uninterrupted oratory. His humorous and articulate style is truly remarkable, and he interpreted his commentaries on the importance of the study of the psychology of the crowd in teaching children with a continuous and unbroken flow of words, kept his audience in an uproar. Some of his epigrams of the schoolroom were particularly illuminating.

PAINLESS EDUCATION. The abolition of corporal punishment in the public schools has dubbed "painless education" and he declared that the highest ambition of the ordinary school teacher was to discover his teacher's "sacred point of endurance."

Vincent's serious remarks were devoted to the influence which environment and association has upon the moulding character of the child.

AS TO INDIVIDUALITY. "The child's individuality is largely, though not wholly, a product of the individual social milieu in which he has been developed," declared the speaker. "We have all acquired our individuality largely by imitations from others. We have stolen here and taken there until finally we have piled up the collection of traits which we call our individuality."

"This thing that we call our individuality is simply a variation from the 'commonplace individual' at whom we are all so fond of pointing the finger of scorn. We always know what the commonplace individual is like because he is concealed in each of us. The clever person differs from the commonplace individual only in that the latter always says the first thing that comes into his mind, while the former says the fourth or the fifth or the sixth."

PRESSURE ON CHILD. "Each social circle among children coerces its members into acting according to its customs and traditions. If one of its members varies from the accepted standard of the group, he is called, eccentric, foolish or insane, according to the extent of his variation."

The most common forms of pressure brought to bear upon the individual to prevent him from the common place standard are ridicule, economic pressure—such as unjust discrimination against business men—and the building up of types such as the hero.

"Concerning the school room's traditional dependence upon the story of George Washington and the cherry tree, Vincent referred to 'the sublimated veracity' of the father of our country."

CHANGES STANDARD. "Every social group changes its standards according to the changes in its environment," continued Vincent. "Children live in groups from early and quickly develop functions. The hero of the boy's game moulds his early life in dealing with children the wise adult will deal with the political boss in public life."

"Every juvenile group coerces its members into conformity with its standards of living by appealing to the ideals of the group. Each group early forms ideas and sets a standard of living which, if properly directed, will develop into forces for good in any community."

LOYALTY OF YOUTH. "It is a virtue for the small boy to be loyal to the captain of his football team, and he advised parents and teachers to encourage rather than to attempt to stifle this tendency in their charges."

Morris Cox, president of the California Teachers' Association, delivered the first speech of the morning session. He was followed by Lee Emerson Bassett, president of the State Association of University Whitcomb Riley's poems which won high favor with his auditors.

This afternoon's program was as follows: Solo, (a) "A Question" (Bischoff); (b) "You and Love" (D'Harcourt), Alice F. Davis.

"The Personal Life and Health of the Teacher," Dr. Luther H. Gullick.

Solo, (a) "Three Green Bonnets" (D'Harcourt); (b) "The Lass with the Delicate Air" (Arne); (c) "Oh, Where Do Fairies Hide Their Heads?" (Bedford), Lois Fish Hughes.

Marley's Ghost (from "A Christmas Carol"), Lee Emerson Bassett.

The Palace hotel has been selected as the Alameda county headquarters during the State Association session.

It is expected that a number of teachers from all parts of the state will pay visits to Oakland during the institute here.

SESSION ACROSS BAY. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—The second day of the forty-third annual meeting of the California Teachers' Association opened today with a continuation of the sectional meetings. The element of the school section met at Dreamland pavilion and the high school section met at the Mission high school. The session of the Alameda county section was continued in Oakland.

This afternoon the first of the general sessions will be held at the Palace hotel, where the delegates will be welcomed by Kirk Harris, president of the San Francisco convention league. The response will be made by Alexander Chaffin, superintendent of schools of San Jose.

The annual message will be delivered by President E. Merriock, and Alison Ware will speak on "The Old Order."

A number of banquets and receptions will be tendered to the visiting teachers tonight.

BAYLY'S FRIENDS FEAR FOUL PLAY

Vice-President of Large Drug Concern Drops Out of Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance of Charles A. Bayly, Jr., former vice president of the Bayly Drug Company at 1400 Devisadero street, who left his home here on Wednesday morning, and has not been heard from since. His sudden departure, together with the fact that he has never met with some fatality, has rendered his wife prostrated with grief.

According to the statements of his relatives and friends there are absolutely no circumstances leading up to his departure on which to base a theory for his mysterious disappearance. His brother, R. W. Bayly, at present employed in the Bayly drug store, said yesterday that he was certain his brother would return soon. His wife, however, lives in the constant fear that he has been taken ill and is confined in some sanatorium. It was reported at the Bayly home yesterday, where Mrs. Bayly is living with her sister, Mrs. Mildred McBurney, that the shock to the nervous system caused by her husband's sudden departure has placed Mrs. Bayly in a precarious condition.

FORGER IS GIVEN TEN YEARS AT SAN QUENTIN

FRESNO, Dec. 28.—Miles Burlew was sentenced by Judge Church today to ten years at San Quentin for the crime of forgery. He had forged ten different checks, but the district attorney decided to drop the other nine charges. Burlew thanked the judge for his sentence, saying it was an agreeable surprise, as he expected "the limit."

FIFTEEN ARE INJURED IN A RAILROAD WRECK

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 28.—Fifteen persons were injured by the overturning of a two-day coach on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad, 28 miles south of here. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

EDUCATORS WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Business School Teachers Deplore Neglect of English

"What should constitute a course in typewriting?" and "English for the Business College" were the subjects discussed this morning at the seventh annual convention of the Business Educators' Association of California, which is in session in the Polytechnic Business College, Twelfth and Harrison streets. W. E. Gibson, principal of the Polytechnic Business College of this city, presided over the session and Ira Allen, one of the teachers, acted as secretary.

The discussion of English for the Business College was led by Mrs. L. L. Weber of San Jose, who declared that the lack of proper understanding of English by the pupils coming from the public schools is often the cause for astonishment to the business college teacher. There are two reasons for this, she maintained. That the course of study in the public schools embrace so many subjects that a common every day subject like English does not get the attention it needs. Another instance that she cited was that the practical English given in the grammar schools is so immature that it does not grasp the full meaning of the subject, and much of what he does grasp fades from his memory if he passes through the high school before coming to the business college.

LENGTHEN THE COURSE. "One of the most progressive steps ever taken by business colleges is the one to lengthen the course in English," declared the speaker. "The physician, lawyer and the minister must take years to prepare for their vocation, and then they should be able to use the English which they have learned not only of all the professions, but in other words, a veritable walking encyclopedia, require only six short months for preparation."

One of the schools he measured by a higher professional standard, requiring higher qualifications for the teachers, as well as for the students, and the institutions of the land. In the day near at hand when we shall have a normal school for the purpose of training teachers for business colleges.

NOT A SIDE ISSUE. "English can be no longer a side issue for the business college, and it should be emphasized as strongly for the bookkeeping department as for that which teaches stenography."

"Because the pupil enters business college because he is failing in other schools. Sometimes because necessity lays him out on his shoulder and says: 'You must earn your own living and that right early.' But whatever the reason, he enters the business college when he is entering upon a new field, that every subject must be learned on the spot and he is not to be discouraged by the fact that he is confronted by that ghost of other days."

There is perhaps no truth that you will find more difficult to drive home to your students than the one that his greatest need is that of a good English. It is neither swiftness nor accuracy on the typewriter, though they are important, but a knowledge of words and how to use them. How properly emphasize the importance of English may be asked. If your school goes on record as requiring the English work in this subject, the teacher will find his position strengthened and the cause of the English language.

THE OTHER SIDE. "One mistake we are apt to make in this and every other commercial subject is to put the emphasis placed upon the commercial value of what is being taught. It is important to impress upon the pupils that to learn this or that will mean dollars and cents, but it is not the thing of the fact that there are many things money cannot buy. We must teach ourselves to live, not to be entirely by thoughts of 'sordid gain.' In some instances pupils getting into the commercial line of work, the object of the bargain is the object of his teaching."

Let us help the soul to larger growth. Give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you."

Some of the older students have been reading, if anything at all. The other day in a class of sixteen not one could give the meaning of the word 'egotistical,' which to be seemed in common usage enough to have them all know it. Most of them could spell it.

"You hear over and over again that typewriting is a mechanical art, and so it is to a certain extent, but I think that it is a very beginning to permit the idea to enter the new student's head, or that they allow their wits to go wool-gathering in the detriment of good work. They must use their brains to comprehend full knowledge of the keyboard according to the touch system as taught today, and by the time they have accomplished that the work is more interesting and they must think of placing their work to the best advantage on their papers. Centering and spacing correctly preparatory to the nearest kind of composition work is a feature of the instruction that I give to the beginners."

LACK OF VOCABULARY. "Again the lack of vocabulary is so apparent, and I wonder what in the world some of the older students have been reading, if anything at all. The other day in a class of sixteen not one could give the meaning of the word 'egotistical,' which to be seemed in common usage enough to have them all know it. Most of them could spell it."

—Now that you've made your Xmas presents, what about your eyes?

—Did they smart when you did your fancy work?
—That was the vanguard of trouble.
—It was the signal that reads "Get a pair of working glasses now and avoid the need of wearing glasses all of the time later on."
—For years "working glasses" have been a sort of secondary consideration with opticians and the same old method of grinding them out still prevails—but we have improved upon the old way and are making a form of lens that is giving wonderful satisfaction.
—These new style working lenses cost no more than the poorer kinds and are a real deal more comfortable, enabling the wearer to do an almost unlimited amount of work at absolutely no discomfort.
—When calling ask to be fitted to our modern working lenses.
